Turning Point USA Launches TPUSA Communities to Rebuild Local Leadership Across America

PHOENIX, August 11, 2026 — Turning Point USA's latest initiative, TPUSA Communities, is launching a nationwide movement of city-based chapters designed to equip everyday Americans to take ownership of their neighborhoods, strengthen their families, and lead in their own backyard.

For too long, many patriotic Americans who want to stay engaged at the local level have lacked a clear structure and consistent opportunities to grow. Pierre Wilson, TPUSA Communities Vice President, is leading the effort and is committed to closing that gap. His vision centers on the belief that real impact begins when people stop waiting for someone else to step in.

"When people take ownership of their communities, everything changes—that's where real impact begins. No matter your background, there's a place for you here."

Through local chapters, the initiative will activate individuals and families to strengthen their communities, defend American values, and turn good intentions into sustained action—replacing division by identity with a united vision rooted in shared values. The model is built to reach people across every stage of life by strengthening families as the foundation of healthy communities, developing the next generation of young professionals, elevating leadership within minority communities, and honoring the American heroes who have bravely served our country.
